Jubilant FoodWorks outperforms peers with higher delivery share

Stock gained over 86% from March low despite muted Q1 show

SHREEPAD S AUTE Mumbai, 3 September

¬ hough Jubilant FoodWorks' (Jubilant) June quarter (Q1) was muted because of the Covid-19-induced lockdown, its higher share of deliveries/takeaways helped it edge past listed peer Westlife Development (Westlife).

This explains why the stock was more in demand than that of Westlife — while Jubilant gained over 86 per cent from its March lows, Westlife's uptick was a third of that. Jubilant is the Indian franchisee of Domino's Pizza and Westlife runs McDonald's India (South and West) operations.

Jubilant's Q1 update indicates that its operations reached about 85 per cent of its year-ago levels in August, led by faster growth in the delivery segment. This segment's growth was around 110-155 per cent of year-ago levels. Analysts believe Jubilant's overall business recovery is better than that of Westlife, given deliveries account for around two-thirds of Jubilant's overall business, compared to around 50 per cent for Westlife.

According to Shirish Pardeshi, analyst at Centrum Broking, "While the organised, branded restaurants are in relatively better shape, Jubilant's higher share of delivery channels should help in faster business recovery and market share gains, compared to Westlife." He is ery. This, along with benign raw material charges and cost control benefits sustain sceptical of recovery in the dine-in costs and lower discounting, led to the will have to be monitored. Experts believe the company has strengthened its business model in terms of understanding customer preferences and pricing. In fact, its foray into the FMCG segment with the launch of readyto-cook products (masala paste, gravy mixtures, and cooking sauces) under the ChefBoss brand might receive good response, given its experience in the food segment and strong delivery network.

These positives indicate steady revenue and earnings growth potential

Guard against longevity risk with an annuity

Buy at a later age and avoid return of purchase price option for better returns

BINDISHA SARANG

Falling interest rates on fixed-income products have left senior citizens anxious about their finances. The fear of rates tumbling even further is nudging many aged between 50 and 70 years to buy large annuity plans.

Once the salary stops, investors need to invest their corpus in instruments that help generate a regular income. Says Naval Goel, chief executive officer and founder, PolicyX.com: "The purpose of an annuity is to give you a steady income stream throughout your retirement or once your income stops. It's like a reverse equated monthly instalment."

Adds Melvin Joseph, a Securities and Exchange Board of India-registered investment advisor and founder of Finvin Financial Planners: "You give a lump sum amount and the insurer guarantees you an income stream for life."

Annuities are of two types: Deferred and immediate. Deferred annuities are for people who are still earning. They put in money for several years, it compounds, and then payouts begin at retirement. People who need an income stream right away should invest in an immediate annuity.

Make the right trade-offs when buy ing an immediate annuity. Some variants, like return of purchase price, pay the initial amount back to the nominee after the annuitant's death. It is for people who want to pass on wealth to their children. "The regular payout will be less if you choose the return of purchase price option," says Joseph.

An annuity plan can cover one life or two. In the latter option, after the death of one person, the spouse continues to receive payments for his/her lifetime. An annuity that covers the lifetimes of both partners is advisable, though the payout tends to be lower in that option (than in the single-life option).

Annuities safeguard the investor against longevity risk. The annuitant receives a fixed sum irrespective of whether he lives for 20 or 40 years after retirement. They also guard him against the risk of a secular decline in interest rates. However, they have a few disadvantages. They don't safeguard him against inflation. Their rate of return tends to be on the lower side. Annuity income is taxable and it is an illiquid instrument.

> To tackle inflation risk, investors need to diversify. Says Joseph: "Not more than 20 per cent of your retirement corpus should be parked in an annuity." Some part of it (depending on age and risk appetite) should be invested in equity mutual funds where it can earn a good return and hedge against inflation. The rest may be invested in fixed-income instruments that also generate an income but have a short- to medium-tenure And they should be invested in a laddered manner (should mature at regular intervals) to beat reinvestment risk.

Avoid buying an annuity in this low interest-rate environment. Says Joseph: "Buy an annuity now only if you are retiring or are over 60. Those in their 50s should invest later to avoid getting stuck at the current rates.' Buying at a later age also improves the rate of return from an annuity. Finally, select a reputable brand. Says Goel: "Choose a company that will still be around 30-40 years later."

'Bharath' stocks to outrun Sensex: BNP Paribas

Thiruvananthapuram, 3 September

French brokerage BNP Paribas has said that a group of eight large domestic stocks, which it has called 'Bharath', has the potential to outperform the benchmark Sensex over the next year.

The stocks in this basket are Bharti Airtel, HDFC Bank (and HDFC Life), Asian Paints, the recent rally," said Amit Reliance Industries (RIL), Tata Shah, head of India equity Consultancy Services (TCS), research, BNP Paribas and Hindustan Unilever (HUL). The brokerage said these firms could reach about a billion people. "We think such a reach enables them to withstand difficult business cycles and come out stronger as competition around them struggles. The companies within our coverage in the Bharath list offer a potential upside of 16.7 per cent, despite target of 41,500, implying a 6per cent upside from current levels. "We have done a scenario analysis based on historical five-year average of next 12 months P/E (price-to-earnings) and P/BV (price-to-bookvalue) multiples. We now firmly believe the worst is behind us and are now steadily heading towards a recovery. Near term, the market might have run slightly ahead of its fundamentals, but we do not over the past 18 years shows the current levels," said Shah. ting narrower, with fewer stocks The bear-case scenario for the brokerage is the benchmark indices slipping 9 per cent from current levels, while the bullcase scenario offers about 10 per cent jump.

BNP said these companies are benefiting either through cost savings by the adoption of work from home or by higher revenue growth.

BNP said the Nifty returns

The brokerage has Sensex see a material downside from that the market has been getdominating returns

> When asked about whether the retail investor driven rally will sustain, Shah said this is a global phenomenon and is caused by lack of adequate returns in other asset classes.

"This might be one of the few times when retail investors could have the last laugh. It is unlikely that the plug is likely to be pulled unless there is a big shock in the system," he said.

कला संघटना हतबल

कलाकार-तत्रज्ञावर उपासमारीची वेळ

कोल्हापूर, ता. ३ : गेले साडेपाच महिने घरात बसून आहे... हाताला काही कामच नाही... शिलकीत जेवढं काही होतं- नव्हतं ते सारं काही संपलं... आता पुढे काय करायचे, हा प्रश्न आहेच... लोककला केंद्रातील कलाकार समन अंधारे हतबल होऊन सांगत असतात.

अंधारे या एक प्रातिनिधिक उदाहरण. पण, राज्यभरातील हजारो कलाकार- तंत्रज्ञांवर लॉकडाऊनमळे उपासमारीची वेळ आली आहे आणि या पार्खभुमीवर शासनाकडे विविध मागण्यांसाठी ११५ कला संस्था

बसला. यात्रा-जत्रांवरच प्रशासनाने बंदी घातल्याने एकही मनोरंजनाचा कार्यक्रम ऐन हंगामात होऊ शकला सोदविण्यासाठी जिखर संस्थेद्वारे ११५ कला संस्था

मानधन

एकवटल्या आहेत. शासनदरबारी कलाकारांच्या नोंदी, आरोग्य विमा, घरकुल आणि इतर सवलती मिळाव्यात, यासाठी कल्याणकारी मंडळाची प्रमुख मागणी आहे.

> लॉकदाऊननंतर सारे व्यवहार सुरळीत होऊ लागले आहेत. चित्रपट-

मालिकांचे चित्रीकरणही सुरू झाले. मग्, बाकीच्या कलाप्रकारांवर अन्याय का? कोरोना प्रतिबंधात्मक सर्व नियम पाळायला आम्ही तयार आहोत आमच्याबाबत अनास्था कशासाठी..?
